

Donations and In-Kind Contributions Policy

The purpose of this policy is to establish guidelines for accepting and recording monetary donations and in-kind contributions to the Global Student Forum (GSF). This policy ensures that all donations and contributions are aligned with the GSF's mission, values, and legal obligations, and that they are utilized effectively to support our objectives.

Scope

This policy applies to all monetary donations and in-kind contributions received by the GSF from individuals, corporations, foundations, government entities, and other organizations.

Acceptance of Donations and Contributions

- The GSF accepts monetary donations and in-kind contributions that support and further our mission.
- All donations and contributions must comply with applicable laws and regulations.
- The GSF reserves the right to refuse donations and contributions that come with conditions or expectations that conflict with our mission, values, or operational capabilities.
- The GSF is committed to ethical practices and transparency in all donation and contribution activities. Donations and contributions must not influence or give the appearance of influencing our decision-making processes, priorities, or actions.
- In-kind contributions, including goods, services, and expertise, are accepted based on the current needs and capacity of the GSF to utilize them effectively.
- Comprehensive records of all donations and in-kind contributions are maintained, including donor details, value, and purpose.
